Congratulations on your engagement!

We are delighted that you are considering The Signet Library for your special day!

Once you have made a few of the key decisions such as dates, your budget and the tricky task of establishing likely guest numbers, we would be happy to chat over your dreams for your wedding day. To get you started, this proposal includes costings associated with hiring the library and a sample menu taken from our seasonal menu collection for you to consider.

We would love to meet with you to help you create the most perfect wedding day!

Your Wedding Venue

The Lower Library, with its columns, cornices, galleries and balustrades, is the perfect elegant and formal setting for a wedding ceremony, with a wonderful long aisle and space for the service solemnities under the archway. After the ceremony we transform the Lower Library into your reception space where you can relax and mingle with your guests.

The Upper Library is a magnificent setting for your wedding celebration; your guests will enjoy the wedding breakfast in sumptuous surroundings before dancing the night away under the cupola. Architectural features include a cupola painting depicting Apollo and the Muses, accompanied by poets, orators, historians and philosophers, a magnificent stained glass window celebrating Queen Victoria's Jubilee, classical columns, ornate cornices, and upper galleries with decorative balustrades.

Your Wedding Team

Planning your wedding day can be a daunting task; you may just be beginning to think about the kind of day you'd like; or if you're the organised type and you've been keeping a scrapbook for years, now it's time to put all that planning into action.

Either way, our dream team are on hand to advise. Their job is to absolutely understand what a couple's perfect wedding entails and then interpret it and make sure everything is delivered seamlessly on the day.

Creativity is what sets weddings at the Signet Library apart from other venues. By keeping a finger on the 'foodie' pulse, we inspire couples and create solutions to match their requirements. Romantics at heart, we find great pleasure in the planning part of a couple's wedding day, helping you with everything from menu planning to fabulous floral arrangements and individual wedding theming.

Your Wedding Experience

When you are planning your special day, you will undoubtedly have a vision or an idea of how you would like it to turn out.
